

Spindletop Oilmen's Golf Tournament

Spindletop was founded with an invitational golf tournament in 1966, and has grown over the years to become the world's largest oilmen's charitable golf tournament! In 2008, over 370 oil and gas executives joined together during the weekend preceding the annual Offshore Energy Conference in Houston to raise approximately $500,000 for area youth charities.

Under the direction of the Spindletop Board of Trustees, the tournament is organized by the volunteer Spindletop Tournament Committee which spends countless hours ensuring that the tournament maintains the integrity on which it was founded.

Not only does the tournament raise significant money for youth, but it promotes fellowship within the oil and gas industry between customers and competitors alike. For 40 years, the tournament crowned an individual champion, however, in 2006 the format changed to a "two-man Shamble" allowing for a two-man team to become the tournament champion. The tournament requires that this winning team include a service company representative paired with a customer. In 2007, the Tournament Committee elected to re-instate the Individual Champion competition to join the Champion Team.
